Karwar,
2nd Novr., 1912.

My dear cousin,

You must have received the telegram which Rao Bahadur Gangolly sent to you in reply to yours. Mr. Gangolly had a second fit of apoplexy about a fortnight after he had the first but it was of a very mild nature and he came round after a few hours. He is doing well now and does his work as usual. But I am sorry in spite of our advice he has not given up
